

Title: After Dark

Author: William Katz

Description:

She's recently divorced and lonely. He's her handsome new neighbor. She longs for romance. His passion is murder.

And it all happens after dark.

Anne Seibert is bouncing back from a failed marriage. She has moved to a new town. But the pain she still feels has turned her into a chronic insomniac. Each night, unable to sleep, she stares out her window. And she sees the good-looking man across the street, leaving at the oddest hours.

Why Where is he going

He spots her. Why is she at that window What is she doing

They meet. Anne is attracted to him. He plays along, but he simply wants her removed from that window at night. So he sets a lure, a trap from which there would be no escape.

Seeking love, she will face death.